By Stephen Covey:

“To achieve success in the customer service field as in any area of business or life, you need to know how to set and achieve goals. Part of successful goal setting is something I call “programming your belief system.” It consists of four steps:

1. Affirmation.
2. Visualization
3. Graphic reinforcement.
4. A support system.”

(What I would add to this is that taking ACTION in addition to the above is important)
